Poll taxes must be paid by February 1st. February 1st falls on Sunday. Therefore, if you want to continue to be a qualified voter, you had better pay your poll taxes Saturday. You may want to vote against somebody.

Cliff Hamby started off as No. 4 on the register for janitor at the postoffice. He is now 16th on the list. If he keeps on writing letters, he will be 20th in a short time.

Another victory, if a minor one, for the GCW. An electric light, instead of that miserable kerosene lamp, has been placed in the ladies' rest room.

Farmers with a lot of old sorghum on hand may find a ready sale for it soon, as the moonshiners have been cut off from their ready supplies of sugar. One bridegroom said he did not need any sugar in his coffee; he just got his bride to dip her finger into the cup. That will wear off after a while.

The mistake of our government in preparing for the inevitable entrance into the war have been many and great. But it is idle to dwell upon the past. The past has gone. We must look to the future and work the harder on account of the mistakes of the past. We MUST trust our elected leaders. Whom else can we trust? Who else is empowered to shape national policies? Gossiping about past mistakes is like trying to collect spilled milk.

We are still a good deal behind in writing of our new subscribers, distinguished visitors and renewers. Be patient.

In our "court proceedings" items, we must have been mistaken about the saloonkeepers, four prominent whiskey drinkers informed us that the saloons were air tight during court week.

Do not overlook the great opportunity to hear Mr. Robert G. LeTourneau at the First Baptist Church Sunday, February 1st. He will deliver three talks; one at 11, one at 3 and one at 7. Each talk will be different.

Ike Pearson is spending a month with homefolks.

Dear Allen: congratulations. I see that you have a new typewriter ribbon.

We think that Jimmie McCorkle, head of the Mississippi Press Association, is trying to do a darn good job. Without making any invidious comparisons, he takes his task more seriously than any of his predecessors.

A lady just parked across the street to buy maybe ten cents worth of meat. She scraped a hundred miles of wear from her tires. She can get more meat, but she cannot replace the tires.

Get into the habit of telling the grocer: "That box of crackers does not need to be placed in a one half cent bag".

If you are going to give a book to the soldiers, dig into the garret and get out "Three Weeks". This generation has not read that hot one. I was a soldier two years and I did not give a damn about any "deep" books.

If I knew that I could get my pick of women to practice artificial respiration on, I might join that Red Cross class. But it would be my luck to get one who bulged out in the wrong spots, not the right spots.

George Cunningham of the free state visited our new place recently and a reinstated on the mailing list. George does very well.

Our favorite waitress is figuring on visiting some of her folks in Little Texas soon.

What with an army camp, a shell-loading plant, an air field and a bayonet factory, Grenada is likely to be quite crowded soon.

LOST: the Food Stamp Plan.

After seeing his name in the paper like Solay sent in a letter containing one of Goodman's favorite tales but not for publication. Ike says he can hardly keep his GCW in the New York office as so many folks there grab for it.

This walking business is nothing new to me, as I got into such good shape that I have not had a car for over two years, but still have a "credit" on a reliable firm.

It CAN happen to us.

Dear Mr. Red: did you read George Morris' article in Sunday's Commercial. It was right down your alley. If you missed it, get a copy. P. S. I see you did, as you sent me a clipping after above was written.

Mr. Van Browning Died Here Tuesday

Mr. Van Archie Browning died in his home on College Street in Grenada Tuesday, January 27, 1942. He had been in ill health for several years and suffered a stroke a few months ago, yet he was able to attend divine services at the Methodist Church last Sunday morning.

He was born in the Taylor community in Lafayette county on July 12, 1879 and was the son of Mr. J. C. Browning and Mrs. Betty M. Browning of that community. He received his education at the Taylor High School. For the past 35 years he has lived in Grenada. He has been a member of the Methodist faith since he was 17 years of age and became affiliated with the Grenada church 11 years ago. He and Miss Annie Comer, of Grenada were married on November 25, 1926.

Mr. Browning was a painter and paperhanger by trade and was so conscientious and thorough in his work that he was never idle until ill health prevented him from working. He was quiet in his manner and kindly to all people and, so far as we have ever heard, never had an enemy.

He was buried Wednesday morning in Woodlawn Memorial Park in Grenada. Three ministers, Rev. J. L. Robinson, Rev. T. B. Thrower and Rev. E. R. Henderson, had charge of the funeral rites.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Annie Comer Browning and the following brothers and sisters: Artie Browning, El Paso, Texas; Guy Browning, El Paso, Texas; Evelyn B. Russell, Huntington, West Virginia; Elizabeth B. Brown, El Paso, Texas; Sue B. Price, DeKalb, Miss.; C. S. Browning, Okolona; F. M. Browning, Reform, Alabama; and Lewis Browning, Winona, Miss.

To the sorrowful ones we extend our sympathy.

Civilian Defense

Mrs. J. K. Aven gave a most interesting interview concerning the work to be done by Civilians within 300 miles of the Coast. This program sponsored by the Federal Government and United States Army is an IMPERATIVE CIVILIAN DEFENSE program, and these agencies are insisting that this program be carried out in its entirety. Particularly are they interested in the Civil group.

It is urged that those who have not "signed up" do so at once; and that those who have "signed up" attend the classes provided for their instruction.

Mrs. Aven will be glad to tell YOU how YOU can help.

Remember Pearl Harbor!! Remember the Philippines!!

Grenada Vocational School On a 24-Hour Basis

The Aircraft Sheet Metal and Riveting course of instruction, under the supervision of the vocational department of Grenada High School, is operating on a twenty-four hour basis. Four classes, each operating six hours, meet six days a week. Three instructors are in charge of the training program. All are experienced factory workers and are able to impart to the students knowledge gained from actual experience.

This training is a part of the program set up by the Federal Government, under the supervision of the State Vocational Board and the sponsorship of local High Schools. Anyone, out of school, and of average physical fitness, is eligible to attend. Applications may be filed with the State Employment Service, Masonic Temple Building, Grenada. This course of instruction embraces study of principles and application on jobs that will equip the trainee to enter aircraft plants as skilled workers.

The rapid increase in production asked by our president, has found the factories unprepared to meet the demand for ships due to the lack of skilled workers. It is hoped that we will be able to furnish a large number of trained workers to aid in making our air force the largest and best in the world.

Out-of-town inquiries may be addressed to L. E. Norsworthy, Vocational Supervisor, Grenada.

Grenada Farmers Asked to Sell Scrap

The estimated million to a million-and-a-half tons of scrap iron lying useless on American farms, if combined with other necessary materials, would be sufficient to build 139 modern 35,000-ton battleships for the United States Navy, according to advice transmitted by OPM to the Department of Agriculture.

Through its former-committee organization, the USDA War Boards have taken the responsibility of collecting the scrap metal from the nation's 6,000,000 farms.

Scrap iron, Mr. Hubert Clark, chairman of the Grenada County USDA War Board, pointed out is an essential ingredient in the production of steel.

"That 125 pounds or so of rusty scrap on your dump pile," said Mr. Clark, "when mixed with other materials is enough to make a 500-pound serial bomb. And if you pile it up with that of all the farmers in your county, 36,000 pounds of it will make one 27-ton medium tank."

The total amount of scrap available on American farms is estimated to make possible the manufacture of 50 million machine guns of .50 calibre, or 150,250 light tanks of the type which the British have used so effectively in the Libyan campaign.

To the USDA War Boards goes the task of helping to move the metal off the farms into the smelters and blast furnaces in the greatest production drive in the nation's history.

The immediate need for scrap iron is indicated by the fact that many small steel plants throughout the country have been slowed down or have had to suspend operations.

Grady Triplett, 53, Died Last Sunday Afternoon

The community was saddened last Sunday afternoon, January 25, 1942, when the news got out that Grady Triplett, 53 years of age, had died in his home on Line Street.

Mr. Triplett was born in Plattsburg, Mississippi on January 17, 1889, and was the son of Mr. Butler Triplett and Mrs. Mary Ann Triplett. Since 1907 he has been a member of the Baptist faith. In 1914 he and Mrs. Jethie Lee Clements Neal were married in Water Valley. His estimable wife died less than two years ago. For many years he has lived in Grenada, and was a master of his craft, that of carpentry. In recent years, he has had the responsibility of superintending the construction of many WPA structures in Grenada, and also the handsome new school building in Charleston.

He was a very quiet, unassuming man and attended strictly to the business upon which he was engaged. As stated, he was a master carpenter. Plumb, straight and level were the jobs he performed, and those adjectives can also describe his life.

Funeral services were conducted Monday morning at the Central Baptist Church by Rev. E. R. Henderson, pastor of that church, and Rev. W. R. Patch, of Houston. Interment was had in Grenada.

Surviving him are two daughters, Mesdames Wesley Patch, of Houston, and H. Percy Neal, of State College. Several brothers also survive. To them our sympathy is extended.

To The People of Beat Two:

Our quota in the Red Cross drive is $150.00. In order to raise this amount it is necessary for every man, woman, boy and girl, both white and colored to have a part. Some one has truly said, "It is the least we can do." Every penny goes directly to those in service. It is impossible to canvas the entire beat and collect your contribution. Please send your donation to Eugene McGahey or Mrs. Sam Gillon. Don't let Beat Two fall down on her past. It is my duty—it is yours! Mrs. Sam E. Gillon.

CIVILIAN TRADESMAN URGENTLY NEEDED FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE

Civil Service officials disclosed today that thousands of additional civilian tradesmen are needed immediately in connection with the expansion of the national defense program. The Navy Yard at Charleston, South Carolina, alone, needs hundreds of machinists, caulkers and chippers, pneumatic drillers, punchers and shearers, rivet heaters and toolmakers, for immediate duty.

The Air Corps needs thousands of engine mechanics, instrument mechanics, sheetmetal workers, heat treaters, pre-peller mechanics, wire workers, and many other tradesmen. The officials urged that qualified tradesmen contact any second or first class post office where full details may be obtained from the civil service secretary.

Our notification that, after March 1, our subscription rates would advance was not and is not a scheme to get some quick money, but it is merely to give notice. Costs of EVERYTHING are advancing. This increase is done from a business standpoint. We want to stay in business and we cannot stay in business if we try to maintain OLD prices in the face of steadily increasing costs. We are not trying to get folks to come in ahead of time and renew, tho we have accepted quite a few ahead-of-time renewals. Fortunately, at this time, we are not pressed for money.

Circuit Court Meets In Semi-Annual Session

The session of circuit court which began Monday attracted a large crowd of potential jurors, including a specialist venire, and another large crowd of lookers-on, and promises to run thru next week if the docket is completely sounded. Judge John Allen, as usual gave a charge to the grand jury and on this occasion his charge was couched in words of wartime tempo.

The following men were selected to form the grand jury: R. C. Pezz, T. J. Morham, W. E. Brannon, J. D. Ross, W. D. Ozan, W. R. Todd, Albert Hayward, Tom Spears, A. B. Chapman, R. S. Hobson, R. M. Lockett, J. W. Leve, W. F. Martin, (Foreman), A. A. Collins, Jack McClure, Louis Frazier, Henry Williams, Bolton, Roundsville, M. M. Mullin and C. L. Anthony. R. P. Burt served as Bailiff of the grand jury.

Petit Jury No. 1 was composed of the following: Neal Anderson, D. L. Anderson, Henry Carpenter, J. R. Latham, Dale Patton, R. L. Liles, A. M. Matran, W. D. Hankins, Don Moore, J. T. Vance, J. P. Britt, J. S. Chapman.

The court used the first three days of the week in empaneling the juries and trying (and settling) out of court cases of comparatively minor interest and importance. Friday and Saturday have been set for settling from the special venire, already summoned, a jury to try Robert Orle for the slaying of Lee Branton, this case having originated in District Five. The case of Hoogood, charged with the slaying of Percy Mabry, also from District Five, was postponed until the next term of court, as Hoogood is ill in a Memphis hospital.

Monday morning it is expected that the trial of Robert Orle will begin as all witnesses in that case have been dismissed until that day.

The grand jury adjourned Wednesday.

The Small Town's Comeback

The small town was built around the crossroad store. America was built around the small town. The pneumatic rubber tire and the internal combustion engine made the automobile possible.

The railroads made big cities practical, but it also created many more small towns.

It was the automobile that started the small town backward in a commercial sense although it did at the same time bring residents from the bigger commercial and industrial centers. But this same transportation on rubber tires that brought these residents lured local residents to take their custom to the metropolitan centers.

Small town business took its first licking from the mail order houses, and there was not much that could be done about it. Then, with the coming of the automobile on its rubber tires, the mail order houses established bases throughout the country in their commercial war on small town business.

For 25 years the small town business man has watched his customers riding away on rubber to make their purchases elsewhere. But the small town business man hung on and adjusted himself. He has managed to make a living while business in the bigger cities grew rich.

For a quarter of a century the small town business man has been taking it first on the chin and then on the nose, with a black eye now and then for variety.

But small town business is coming back with a bang, or, to be more exact, with a series of bangs as tires with their rubber treads spent blow out.

In fact the comeback will not wait for the tires to wear out and blow out. With the Japs swarming over the plantations where practically all the world's rubber comes from and stocks of rubber being burned. Mr. Smalltown Citizen is going to conserve that precious rubber on the family bus in the garage. He's going to explain to Mrs. Smalltown Citizen that there is not much sense in rubbing off a nickel's worth of irreplaceable rubber to save a few pennies at a far distant super market, especially when the government spending program is making the pennies more plentiful.

To lick the Japs and the Japs we are going to make fundamental adjustments. There can be no doubt that the first thing we will have to learn to do without is new rubber tires. The smart man is not going to sell shoe leather short. He is going to take stock of the activities of himself and family. The car is not going to be used for anything not absolutely necessary and for which a substitute can be found.

Any American citizen who wastes rubber is sabotaging the war effort of his country. Our duty is to conserve it.

Any way you look at it the answer is that the city business man will lose business, which will accrue to the small town business man.

The radius of deliveries must be reduced in the interest of conserving our present stock of rubber tires. The housewife who orders supplies to be delivered should order them from the nearest source.

The same amount of merchandise must be delivered with much less tire mileage being consumed in the process.

If everybody does this it will mean that delivery trucks will travel less miles and deliver more merchandise.

Some mathematically minded statistician could probably figure out how many million tons of rubber would be saved in the coming year if people would, first of all, walk to the stores and carry home their merchandise, and in cases where this was impractical, order it from the store nearest to their home.

But figures and charts are not necessary. Common sense points out the obvious answer.

Chambers of commerce, defense councils, state and national governments, should lose no time in warning the people that our delivery system for merchandise is wasteful of rubber, which may have been excusable while we had plenty of rubber, but in the light of present conditions, is not only inexcusable, but actually unpatriotic.

Call for your merchandise and carry it home when possible, or send the children for it. . . and this does not mean driving to either near or distant stores, it means walking or sending the children on bicycles.

If deliveries are necessary buy from the nearest available source and give the merchant as much time as possible, even a couple of days, to make delivery so that he can bunch his deliveries and thus conserve rubber. He may not be able to get new tires when his present ones wear out.

Order less often so less trips will be necessary.

War brings drastic regulations. It is possible that eventually tires will be rationed for delivery trucks with limitations made on their radius of deliveries and on the size of orders that they are permitted to deliver.

A little common sense exercised now by the public will postpone any such drastic regulations.

But, whether this reformation in our habits of buying merchandise comes voluntarily or by governmental decree, it is certain to help the small town business man.

After the licking he has taken for a quarter century who will say that he does not deserve it?

And now for a word from our sponsor:

The small town business man should make preparations to do his part in this radical revision of buying habits that must come, either voluntarily or by compulsion.

He should acquaint the public with information about the merchandise he has to offer. He should keep them informed about new substitutes for articles that are no longer obtainable. He should acquaint the public with prices of his merchandise. In other words he should advertise and advertise in the Home Town newspaper that everybody reads.

To hell with all politicians.

Our national mistakes have been many and grievous, but they are as water over the mill. Let's look forward, not backward. We have a titanic task ahead.

Two Bills - And Both Are Needed!

Two of the most important bills, from a Mississippi Prosperity standpoint, ever to come before the state legislature now are in the proper committees in Jackson. Both are badly needed as imperative cogs in the battle to move Mississippi out of the low income bracket now throttling the development of the state and the prosperity of its residents.

One is the workmen's compensation bill, and the other the measure to reduce the state's income tax rate. The Northeast Mississippi Council, composed of representative farmers and business men of the 23 northeast counties of the state, is solidly behind both measures.

Just because a man's annual income is below the figure which subjects him to a state income tax is no reason for him to be indifferent to the bill. One of the real reasons for his income being so low is, in all probability, the high income tax itself, and the lack of a Compensation law in Mississippi. Hundreds of industries, looking for sites for factories in the south, have avoided Mississippi because it has no Workmen's Compensation law and because of its high income taxes. Thus we lose thousands of well paid jobs for our workmen. This decreases demand, locally, for farm products, cuts the prices the farmer receives and lowers his income.

While these two measures are not tied together, and have different sponsors in the legislature, both materially affect the prosperity of the state, and both should be passed without a dissenting vote. It will be well for voters in our own county to watch the votes of their senators and representatives on these bills, and right now, before the bills come to a vote, to urge the solons to get behind them and vote in favor of both.

Mississippi is the only state in the union without a Workmen's Compensation law. It is the least developed, industrially, in the union, in proportion to its population and location. It has the highest income taxes in the union, and the lowest per capita income. These two facts stand out -

Least developed industrially!

Lowest per capita income!

It is sheer foolishness for us to believe that we are absolutely right and 47 other states absolutely wrong. A clique representing less than one, one-hundredth per cent. of our population has been able to keep the Workmen's Compensation bill off the state's law books, they being more interested in wringing exorbitant fees from victims of industrial accidents than in the widespread prosperity of their state.

Factories and contracts running into the hundreds of millions are being held out of Mississippi because of the high income tax. This is plain arithmetic - four or five per cent of millions amount to more than eight per cent of thousands.

The state, its citizens high and low, the state treasury, the workers, farmers, business men and even the lawyers themselves, will benefit from the passage of both bills. Write or wire your senators and representatives TODAY to battle for the passage of both bills.

Maybe, A Blessing In Disguise

It is pretty hard to get any consolation out of the fact that our country is in a desperate struggle for its very existence, yet there is the hope that, out of the impending period of sacrifice and blood and sweat, will emerge a stronger, more independent people.

American people have become soft. "Service" with a capital "S" has been their lot in life. American people have been too self-confident. They have been too self satisfied and too self sufficient. They have been too prone to dismiss the warnings of their leaders as so much tommyrot and hooey. They have underestimated the strength and ingenuity of their potential enemies.

We have become accustomed to too much service: service from the filling stations, service from the retail stores, service from the utilities and service from the professional men.

We want our pound of bacon wrapped in oil paper, then in brown paper, then put into a sack and delivered in ten minutes. We want our crackers - already sealed in cellophane or similar material - further wrapped, then delivered promptly.

Americans have been extremely wasteful of natural resources and no less wasteful with rubber, tin, steel and wasteful of everything else.

The finest, most frugal generation the South ever saw was the generation of people that came thru the terrible Reconstruction period. They learned to do without. They learned to make what they had do. As a consequence this generation, as a whole, having gone thru this period of "do without" built a civilization in the South that their prodigal children and grand children have almost destroyed.

The sacrifices that lie ahead of us will make another fine generation. People again will learn how to make what they have suffice. They will learn to do without many things. They will learn to walk again. They will learn that, if grist mills are shut down for want of gasoline, that hominy (made with wood ashes, water and shelled corn) is bread in another form. They will learn to tote their own packages. They will learn to save, instead of waste. They, like those of the generation that lived thru the Reconstruction period, will learn to do many things that they do not now know to do, and to do without many things that they now consider indispensable.

"God moves in a mysterious way, His wonders to perform". Maybe this war effort will be indeed a blessing in disguise to a decadent people.

Bad Political Debts

Well-managed newspapers always charge cash on the barrelhead for political advertisements. Experience has taught them that getting money from a defeated candidate is almost as hard as getting favors from a successful candidate.

On the first of the year, we went through our ledger and charged off all "bad debts." The gross amount, considering the volume of business we have done on credit for the past four and one-half years, was remarkably small.

About 83 percent of these bad debts that we charged off was for debts from candidates; about 15 percent was from firms that had gone busted; and only about 2 percent were from firms and individuals who could pay, but have not paid.

It looks like Paul is having a lot of trouble keeping his payrollers in line.

Maybe our people will wait until the flag-draped boxes begin coming back from the Orient to become aroused to the seriousness of the situation.

Local Efforts Lagging

(Mrs. W. W. W.)

It seems fairly evident that the conservation efforts sponsored by the several clubs of Grenada is lagging. Citizens accept the theory that conservation of waste paper, scrap iron, tin cans, tooth paste and shaving cream tubes, greas, old bones old glass bottles or jars, discarded clothing or rags, and the giving of books for the Victory Book Campaign, as being a good theory, and then do very little about it.

Much material for national defense can be furnished by our efforts, and it is a fact, that unless all of us save the above mentioned articles, that these articles will have to come from new or raw materials, which we all know, are drastically needed in preparing articles of defense, be it clothing or guns or ammunition or first aid.

Each morning that you awaken in your comfortable homes, remember that in the immediate future, that the sons of the home, the sons of your neighbor and the sons of the homes of many lands, must at last come to actual combat with German soldiers and with Japanese soldiers. It may be that by June of this year our own flesh and blood will be in attacking tanks, behind the sights of machine guns, as well as in the fighter and bombing planes. Right now the sons of other mothers, loved as dearly as you love yours, are holding the enemy on many battle lines.

Do all you are asked to do for America. Do it now and present a united front to the enemy. The enemy is not concerned with whether you are a Democrat or Republican. They are fighting Americans. Let them know that they are fighting a united America.

That is one way we can answer the Axis. That is one way we can help our boys who are daily risking their lives for America.

Red Cross Knitters

(Mrs. W. W. W.)

The war board has ruled that wool can be put to better use than being knitted into sweaters by a volunteer amateur knitter and has asked that except by specific orders from military commanders that the knitting needles be stilled. At present the war board refused to reveal whether or not the commanders have any plans to place orders for hand knitted cosies. Of course all thread in the hands of local chapter will be used to knit garments for refugees.

Since many women will now find time for other defense efforts, more will enter First Aid Treatment Classes, Motor Corps, Home Nursing, Nurses Aid Instructions and other volunteer services. Join now. Remember Pearl Harbor!

What Became Of Them

Who remembers the Yellow Kid cigarettes? What became of them?

Who remembers Fairy Soap? What became of that splendid toilet article?

Who remembers Zu Zus, the fancy little ginger cakes that attracted the nickel of every kid of the past generation? What became of them?

Who remembers Castoria, the mother's friend? What became of this medicine?

The answers are monotonously uniform. The makers of these articles quit advertising.

The Highway patrolmen need no further power and duty. They are doing a good job. Let it go at that.

Me and the GCW.

The war news continues bad and will probably get worse before it gets better. This war is serious business, even if it took the fire restrictions to make folks see it.

Do not forget to hear R. G. LeTourneau at the First Baptist Church on Sunday, February 1st. He delivers three talks, one at 11, one at 3 and one at 7. Each talk is different.

As far as we personally are concerned, they can stop selling tires; but if they go to restricting sweet snuff, the government will hear from me and R. L. Smallwood.

By the way, we note from the New Albany Gazette R. L. Smallwood, Jr., has been made attorney for the board of supervisors of Union County.

Enjoyed talking to two of my old "hands", Frank Travis and Walter Ford, Saturday. Both are good negro men.

We note that these beautiful days have permitted our venerable friend, Mr. W. M. Dubard, to get out and mingle with his friends nearly every day.

We neglected to mention last week that Isaac, the retail roasted peanut merchant, has announced that peanuts will be 6 cents a bag, instead of 5 cents, and he assigns this increase to the international situation. He regrets this action and hopes that none of his customers will be mad at him.

During a temporary absence from the office, Miss Jane Young, who had not been dunned or reminded about her subscription came in, and renewed. There's no sense in making us remind you when your paper is "out" for every issue carries, next to your name, your expiration date - such as 1-42 (which means your subscription expires in January, 1942) or 4-42 (which means that your subscription expires in April - the fourth month - of 1942).

Hurd Horton has exclusive information that a bayonet factory will be established here. Just he and I know it. It's a dark secret.

Wonder how Brother J. M. Pierce is getting along.

Brother cigar-smoking Childs awes in town Saturday, in a terrible hurry as usual.

The old lady attended a business meeting of a group of Mississippi publishers at the Robert E. Lee Hotel in Jackson on Saturday.

Rather than repeat idle rumors about the war situation, it is far better to keep one's mouth tightly closed.

Red Bilbo Brisco has been ominously quiet here lately, fixing to break out in a new place, I guess.

There is not so much useless running around now that the sale restrictions are in effect. A lot of people have learned to walk, and a lot more will learn that art before this "thing" is over.

Once A Day Milk Delivery

Under the existing tire rationing program we can get new tires only for wholesale deliveries. In order to continue as long as possible with direct deliveries to homes, effective February 1st, we will make only one delivery a day and that will be in the morning.

Except in unforeseen emergencies, our special delivery service will be discontinued. Our wholesale and retail ice cream orders will be handled as in the past. Quinn's milk and ice cream will be available as usual at your favorite grocer's.

This action is taken only as a matter of necessity. In the past our policy has been to make all deliveries, regardless. Now that we must change our policy to meet new conditions we sincerely trust that we will have the wholehearted cooperation of all our customers in doing so.

For "extras," just telephone 277 or leave a note in the milk bottle. Fortunately, for us and our customers too, we as a people are blessed with good refrigeration both in our homes and in our dairy plant. With this advantage the once a day delivery problem should be much easier solved.

Yours for the "duration,"

Quinn Milk Products Co.

Better pay your poll taxes by Saturday for, if you refer to your Ladies Almanac, you will see that February 1st is on Sunday.

We have been informed that Bad Eye, otherwise known as Dr. Shelton, has established a bicycle parking lot in front of the postoffice.

First Sergeant Sidney Jackson, son of Mrs. Beulah Jackson, spent a few days at home this and last week. He is the "top kick" of the "home company" and, they say, he is hard but fair, and that's what makes a soldier in position of authority.

Our customers were kind enough to entrust us with enough work to keep Horn and Greenfield out of devilment during the past week-end.

Looking out thru our window on Beale Street, we occasionally see a pretty pair of legs bearing a pretty woman along.

Alas they sweet.

The friend and companion of our youth, our "brother" Ellett Lawrence, of Greenwood, honored our office with a call recently. He and Bess came over to attend the funeral of Mrs. Jack Brown.

We note that quite a large number of Mississippi weekly newspapers are increasing their subscription rates. Some of them that we see are not worth the dollar a year they get, but by and large the weekly papers of Mississippi stack up with those of other states.

Sam Mims is getting nearly as big a middle age spread as Mike Conner.

Don't forget to pay your poll taxes so that you can vote for some congressional aspirant this year.

Remember, please, our subscription rates go up four bits on March 1, 1942. Increased prices of paper, ink and other things that enter into the production of a newspaper increase our costs, while decrease in national advertising reduces our revenue; in other words, newspapers are between what they call a rock and a hard place, between Ossa and Pelion, between Scylla and Charabdis.

Henry Marter, our old buddy at Graysport, was a recent caller.

A lot of our folks do not yet realize the peril this nation is in. Awake, America, awaken!

Thank goodness, I am not spending my time and energy, worrying about and writing of the dizzy doings of the legislators. We might, however, venture forth and predict that this session is going to be a worse mess than the last one. And it is we, the people, who suffer from such foolishness.

So far, January weather has been truly beautiful. There has hardly been a dark day in the month.

"Mose" Simpson who has been in darkness ever since we started the GCW will now receive the light, as he subscribed recently. He is the veteran railroad agent at Holcomb.

Wonder what Charlie Winter is doing? Nothing, likely.

Whenever we get around to it, we are going to write an editorial on how spoiled we Americans are, what with this "service" and that "service". We are going to have to get along on less and less "service".

Poor Mississippi.

A certain charming young matron stated that she was glad that Whyte Whitaker did not see her get that bicycle spill. We did not; and, therefore, are not going to say anything about it.

Alert merchants keep their places of business neat and orderly and do not appear before their customers in raiment that looks like it has been slept in. On the contrary, they know that they must preserve and maintain an appearance of prosperity (even if their creditors are dogging their heels daily). Then, it has often seemed a mystery to us why newspaper offices should look like hoochie's nests, and newspaper men should look like they have slept in their clothes. Throughout Mississippi there are a good many newspaper offices that look like hell. How can they attract business if folks are scared they will catch leprosy in such a hellhole? A newspaper should be a business institution, charging profitable prices for its wares, and should not give the impression that it is on the verge of going into bankruptcy.

People like to trade with institutions that appear to be prosperous and on the up and up.

DEBATERS PRESENTED

Last Wednesday morning at the regular devotional a non-decision debate took place between two debaters from Eupora and two of our home debaters, Coach Hathorn introduced the debaters and acted as chairman. These debaters are scheduled to give the debaters poise and self-reliance. Grenada upheld the negative side of the question, which was ably supported by Anna Odom and Marguerite Stanley. The question is: Resolved, that every able-bodied male citizen of the United States should be required to have one year of full time military training before attaining the present draft age. The Eupora team, too, ably supported the affirmative side of this question. The first speaker affirmative rebuttal was very clever and witty and was very much enjoyed by the audience.

Last week Lou Avent and Anne Duncan went to Eupora to debate against their negative team. From the several practice teams will be selected the teams that will represent G. H. S. in the regional contest.

BASKETBALL NEWS

Believe it or not, G. H. S.'s fast moving basketball girls gave Duck Hill's girls much sorrow Friday night by winning over them 23 to 18. The odds were against our home team as earlier in the season Duck Hill had romped all over our team. Mary Moore Juchheim was named captain for this game.

The G. H. S. boys, not wanting Duck Hill's ego to be squelched too much, "let" them beat us about 20 to 11. Every team has its bad nights, and we know our boys team is going to get back into the winning again.

G. H. S. vs. H. H. S.

Tuesday before last the Holcomb basketball team played with the local teams in a rough and tumble game. The girls were defeated in this game by a 31 to 19 score. Grenada boys won over the Holcomb Cagers after a hard fight. Tommy Houston, G. H. S.'s '41 was referee for the game.

Let's Cooperate For Defense

TO OUR CUSTOMERS:

The duty of every American is to cooperate to the fullest extent during this National Emergency. Tires, Gasoline, and Oil must be conserved to make possible even limited service and to keep the machine of civilization "back home" operating with as little disturbance as possible.

Effective Sunday, February 1st, 1942, we will discontinue the delivery of milk TWICE a day and all SPECIAL deliveries. We will continue the delivery of milk ONCE a day EVERY day as long as possible. The AFTERNOON delivery will be discontinued.

Please co-operate in this matter. For any "extras" you may need, place a note in the bottle and the driver will fill the order on his regular trip. Or, call the Dairy for orders to be delivered the following day.

We appreciate your patronage and ask for your kind cooperation in this emergency.

GRENADA FARMS, Inc.

MAY WE ASK YOUR COOPERATION?

The Government tire rationing order effective January 5th does not permit Laundries and Cleaners to buy any more tires for delivery of laundry and cleaning.

Therefore, the only move is to reduce daily mileage to bare necessity to prolong the life of our present tires and thus prolong your convenience of home delivery.

We are sure that the Laundry and Cleaning Patrons of Grenada and surrounding territory fully appreciate the situation with which we are faced, and will cooperate with us in meeting this problem. Therefore, we feel that they will be glad to try to help us in establishing these new rules:

1. Owing to conditions at the present time, the scarcity of supplies and equipment and the increased cost of same, we are forced to advise those who enjoy the privilege of an open account, that from now on those accounts must be paid promptly on the first of each month following the service rendered. We cannot allow them to run longer.

We enjoy and appreciate your patronage but must insist on prompt settlement of accounts.

2. When your laundry and cleaning was left, it was done as a courtesy by your solicitor; however, we are forced to discontinue this due to the fact that in most cases it is necessary for a solicitor to double back, and make two, and possibly more trips, in order to collect his bill. The majority of you know just what your laundry or cleaning will cost you, and we do not believe this rule will cause you any trouble.

To those who's account is small, and does not justify bookkeeping, we ask you to be prepared to pay on delivery.

We feel sure that most of you can anticipate your needs, and give your laundries and cleaners the privilege of returning your laundry or cleaning on his regular delivery rather than make a special trip with it.

3. If a customer is not home to receive article upon regular delivery, it will be returned to the plant and returned for delivery on next regular run.

In most cases the solicitors deliver the articles at the same time each week, and we are sure that in the majority of instances the customer will cooperate in seeing that someone is home to receive the article upon delivery.

4. All calls for pickups will be handled as quickly as possible by our regular runs.

On all calls coming in after 10:30 a. m., we cannot make a special run; but will endeavor to pick up same on the next trip.

5. A word about hangers and cedar bags.

We have recently been informed that the manufacturers will soon be forced to discontinue making wire hangers for the duration; consequently we beg of you to please return the hangers to your cleaners or laundries so that we might continue to give you the same quality work you have been accustomed to.

We shall continue to render the best service war conditions will permit. We thank you for the business we have enjoyed and will appreciate your cooperation.

These above rules will become effective Monday, February 2nd, 1942.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Always cut toast in small squares when making cream toast. It is much easier served cut in this way.

The unsightly ring left by cleaning fluids, when used to remove spots, may be avoided by placing under the spot a pad made of thick absorbent cotton.

Apply paint remover with a brush. When paint begins to curl remove with a putty knife. Remover takes time and cannot be hurried.

Store dried fruits in their original packages, tightly covered, or place them in covered fruit jars. It is best not to wash them until time to use.

Always store baking powder in a tightly covered container. If it is exposed to the air some of the strength will be lost.

Growing Children

It's so hard to convince them that they must eat the proper foods for growth and health. VINOL with its Vitamin B1 and Iron will encourage their appetite and may soon show you a delightful improvement. Your druggist has pleasant-tasting VINOL.

We Can All Be EXPERT BUYERS

● In bringing us buying information, as to prices that are being asked for what we intend to buy, and as to the quality we can expect, the advertising columns of this newspaper perform a worth while service which saves us many dollars a year.

● It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy it. It gives us the most priceless feeling in the world; the feeling of being adequately prepared.

● When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer, filled with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have, the feeling of adequacy. Most of the unhappiness in the world can be traced to a lack of this feeling. Thus advertising shows another of its manifold facets—shows itself as an aid toward making all our business relationships more secure and pleasant.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

By Edward C. Wayne

President Sketches World Strategy; Australia Is Periled by Japanese Army Invasion of Its Key Island Outposts; Nelson Speeds Up U. S. War Production

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state and head of the U. S. delegation to the Pan-American conference at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, is cheered by spectators as he waves his hat from the Tiradentes palace, scene of the historic meeting.

BLUEPRINT: Of World Battle

While the nation girded itself for victory production on a scale never hitherto dreamed of, and while American soldiers were arriving on foreign fields ready to do battle until victory, while still others were filling the news with their heroic exploits, President Roosevelt gave newsmen a hint of the "blueprint of battle."

The President, following the close of the Churchill conference, and the safe return of the British premier to London by airplane from Bermuda, had told little to newsmen save that there was a complete accord among the united nations.

Now he had begun to give them the picture, a portrait of battle carried on simultaneously in every part of the globe by the soldiers of all nations working in concert with each other.

Thus were found American aviators fighting in the Singapore area, with the Dutch in the East Indies, in the Philippines, over the Seven Seas, and most lately arriving in Britain and other points for service.

The President said one could look at the map of the world and assume that the anti-Axis group was doing something at almost every strategic point.

He said that joint technical committees were busy, covering the subjects of production, of transportation of produced supplies to every part of the globe, also to the assignment of fighting men and machines to points where they were most needed.

While all of his information had been of a general nature, the nearest he came to giving out details was when he said that excellent progress was being made in strengthening the Allied forces in the Pacific.

This latter statement was taken by the press to be an attempt by the President to allay Chinese fears that the Allies were not going to make a vigorous enough battle against the Japs.

The President had finished a conference with Dr. Hubertus Van Mook, lieutenant governor general of the Netherlands Indies. Dr. Van Mook came out of the conference room beaming.

JAPS:

Extend Fronts

The Japs, far from being licked or even stopped, were constantly extending their front, and with reports of their continued advances spreading out with attacks on all fronts, came dispatches telling of two new ventures. These were the invasion of New Guinea and the Solomon island area; and an invasion of Burma by the Siamese as a measure to aid Japan.

Indicating a threat to Australia itself, the New Guinea invasion was paced by air attacks and a movement of naval forces. The Solomon islands lie in a chain northeast of Australia and east of New Guinea.

The Burma invasion had started at Myawaddie on the Burma-Thailand frontier. This lies at the northern end of the Burmese panhandle bordering the puppet country.

It had not been unexpected, and General Wavell's headquarters some time before had told of Chinese reinforcements to the Burmese troops, apparently sent there for just such a contingency.

The invaders also seized the port of Tavoy, which bisects the panhandle and gave the Jap-assisters a good advantage in opening the fighting.

Jap fliers were reported to have occupied a flying field at Tavoy, and roared out to attack with bombs the important cities and ports of Moulmein and Rangoon.

PRODUCTION: OPM Finally Dies

The OPM, over which William S. Knudsen and Sidney Hillman had presided as twin geni for many hard-working, hard-fighting months prior to American entry into the war, finally died, Production Chief Donald Nelson supplanting it entirely with his new War Production board, probably to be known as WPB.

Mr. Nelson, however, had "portfolios" in his new series of divisions for most of the key men in OPM—for it was not so much a junking of an old organization as a revamping of it on a streamlined basis.

The placing of one man, Nelson, at the head of the war production effort, also necessarily called for a change in organization.

This was undertaken fearlessly by Nelson, who created five primary divisions, most of them utilizing as heads former members of the organization of OPM, SPAB and other groups.

Leon Henderson still was in charge of civilian supply; Hillman still had the labor job; Stacy May was "progress reporter," and so on down the line.

Probably the first and most vital job, almost coincidental with the naming of Nelson himself, went to Knudsen. The big motor man became a Lieutenant General, in-direct charge of the speeding up of factory production in general, that is, as far as Army procurement was concerned.

But the man who was to be most in the public eye for the next few weeks was Ernest Kanzler, a new figure in the picture, who was named automobile production czar—not of automobiles, but of what the auto factories are going to make.

MAC ARTHUR: Resistance

As if to prove that the defeat of his army had been prematurely predicted, General MacArthur sprang a distinct surprise on Washington and the country's newspapers when he reported that American-Filipino resistance was continuing on the island of Mindanao in the vicinity of Davao.

An all-out Japanese effort to turn the Luzon defenders' right flank had earlier been turned back with heaviest Jap losses, and yet the danger was far from over, for the Japanese were reported returning to the attack again with vigor.

It was reported that an entire Japanese army—estimated by some as many as 300,000 men—had been thrown into the battle for Luzon and the whole Bataan peninsula front blazed into action in a renewal of the Japanese attempt to crush the defenders.

But the word from MacArthur's headquarters that fighting was continuing in Mindanao came long after official Washington had given up Mindanao for lost, and simply showed how difficult communications were in the area.

It was believed possible that MacArthur himself had thought Mindanao gone until he received belated word from the southern island that the battle was still in progress.

CRITIQUE:

A dual report on profiteering came before the legislative bodies of the congress, the Truman report and the Vinson report—named for their committee chairmen, the former rushing into print and into the press a few days ahead of the latter.

That congress, aware of the huge character of the hurling of 56 billions into war production in two short years, and of what this might mean if profits were allowed to go beyond certain limits, intended to clamp the lid down was evident.

By VIRGINIA VALE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

MICKEY ROONEY'S marriage to Ava Gardner, the pretty girl from North Carolina whose movie career has so far consisted of a few minor roles, depleted the ranks of Hollywood eligibles—and that's a serious problem. There has never been enough bachelors there to go around. Now the draft, enlistment in the armed forces, and matrimony have made it harder than ever for a pretty, unattached girl to find a presentable, unattached male escort.

Franchot Tone, George Brent, Rooney himself—all seemed bent on pursuing the single life, no matter how many girls they were said to be engaged to. Then matrimony hit them all, like a hurricane. Pity the press agents, who'll have to find substitutes, when they want to get publicity for a film starlet by announcing her engagement to a movie celebrity!

The dearth of bachelors isn't going to bother Martha O'Driscoll, Paramount starlet; she herself removed one from circulation when she announced her engagement to Walter Brewer, a non-professional, and the brother of Mrs. Hal Roach Jr. She appeared in "Reap the Wild Wind" in one of the principal roles and recently finished work in "Pacific Blackout" in the feminine lead.

Betty Field has had a lot of good roles, but they've been non-dressy ones; in "Shepherd of the Hills" she wore makeup on her body that made it look as if she were covered with dirt, in addition to having drab clothing. Now, in "Mr. and Mrs. Cugat," in which she is co-starred with Ray Milland, she has 15 changes of clothing—Edith Head, who designed the garments, said she had the highest budget wardrobe that Paramount will provide for any of its glamour stars this year, so for once Betty will have something to wear on the screen!

Claudette Colbert goes Betty Field one better, though—she wears two wedding gowns in "The Palm Beach Story," in which she marries Joel McCrea twice—once in 1937, once in 1942—and both costumes are tops.

When the call to duty came, it found Carole Lombard ready and obedient. She did not lose her life in that call, she gave it, as willingly and freely as any soldier upon the battlefield. Her memory shall be cherished and revered down the ages by all who love that honor and freedom for which the fun-loving beloved wife of Clark Gable made the supreme sacrifice, when an airplane, carrying the film star, her mother and 20 others, including 15 army fliers, crashed near Las Vegas, Nev., none surviving. Miss Lombard was returning to Hollywood from Indianapolis, where she had gone to assist the U. S. treasury in the sale of defense bonds.

Paulette Goddard takes to the woods in "The Forest Rangers," playing a girl of the backwoods who contends with a city-bred rival for the affections of Fred MacMurray. Seems as if it would have been more appropriate to let her play city gal!

They tell us there's a new word for "oomph," which Hollywood had been tirelessly hunting. Help came from the army. A buck private was visiting the Paramount studio, and saw Jean Phillips, blonde ex-stand-in, who'd just finished a co-starring role in "Dr. Broadway."

He looked at her once, twice, and turned to the bystanders. "Wow!" said he. "She's got woodie!"

ODDS AND ENDS—Bandleader Sammy Kaye, who, with Don Reid, wrote the stirring song, "Remember Pearl Harbor," is donating all the royalties from sheet and record sales to Navy Relief. . . If you've made a habit of listening to those heart-stirring radio programs in which evacuated British children talk to their parents at home, you'll be glad to hear that Metro has bought "Journey to Margaret," a book about one such child. . . Chester Morris and Jean Parker, co-starring in "Torpedo Boat," both wore something red on the first day of shooting. . . Victor Borge tries out his routines for the Crosby programs on the pre-view audiences of other people's broadcasts.

JESUS CALLS FOUR DISCIPLES

LESSON TEXT—Luke 5:1-11.
GOLDEN TEXT—Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men.—Mark 1:17.

Followers of Christ are those who have not counted their goods nor their persons their own, but have willingly yielded all to Him. Obviously many who profess to follow Him have only done so in that measure which will not interfere with their own plans and interests. They need to study this lesson with care.

The call of Christ is one which demands willing and wholehearted obedience.

I. Yielded Possessions (vv. 1-3).

These disciples had already responded to the ministry of Jesus and had followed Him for a time (see John 1:35-4:54), but they did not yet know the fullness of surrender to Christ and had now gone back to their old work of fishing. May they not be typical of many in our day who know the Lord and have for a time followed Him closely, but have again become engrossed in their daily vocation, perhaps just making money?

Jesus was now ready to call them out into a lifetime of service, and the first thing He did was to ask the use of their chief possession, their boat. That was first yielded to Him.

It was not by chance that it was Peter's boat which was just at hand when the Master needed it. Such things do not "just happen." The destinies of men are in the hands of God, and with His children the simplest happening is known to and controlled by Him. He who numbers the hairs on our heads, He who observes the fall of the sparrow, knows about everything that happens to us.

II. Yielded Service (vv. 4-7).

Having completed His teaching by word, Jesus had a special object lesson for Peter and the others concerning the fruitfulness of service apart from His guidance and control, and the blessed results which come from obedience to Him.

Taking them where he found them, He showed the disciples that He was the Master even of their secular vocation of fishing. He is the One who knows more about your business than you do, who can give or withhold His blessing. All that we have has come to us from His hand, and it is all within His control.

This Almighty One was ready to call these fishermen out into the greater business of fishing for men by revealing to them His mighty power to bless and prosper the fisherman—who becomes a fisher of men!

III. Yielded Lives (vv. 8-11).

The giving of their possessions, the yielding of their work into His hands in obedience, led up to His call for the yielding of their lives.

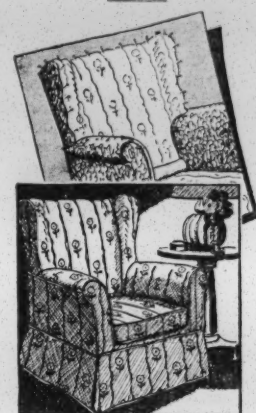

Often we speak of God's claims upon the life of the Christian as though it were the fiat of an autocrat, one who demands his rights. God might well do so, for He has full authority and power over all of us, but He is a gracious God and gently leads His children along to the place where they make their own decision to leave all and follow Him.

The work of God in the world is carried on by men. The joy of proclaiming the gospel was not given to the angels, but to redeemed men and women. Knowing the regenerating grace of God in their own lives, they have been called during all this Christian era to go out to tell others.

In preparation for that ministry our Lord needed yielded lives, which He sought and found in these humble fishermen. They were "not visionaries or dreamers, but were practical men with common sense. They had been disciplined in the school of common toil. . . Though unlearned so far as formal theological training was concerned, these men were teachable. Under the tutelage of the Son of God Himself they received matchless informal training. . . leading to a record of service which the world will never forget. It is that sort of teaching that counts. We, too, may learn in the school of Christ, through a study of His Word, assisted by His Spirit, and through the yielding of our lives to His control" (B. L. Olmstead).

Christ no longer walks this earth to seek and call out disciples as He did these men, but the blessed succession of those of whom it may be said, "They forsook all and followed Him" (v. 11), continues to this day.

We repeat what we have said before, that one of the thrilling things about teaching Sunday school is that somewhere, in some class this next Sunday, God is going to touch the heart of some boy or girl who will be a leader for Him for the next generation.

Benefits
to Our Readers
THE PUBLIC nature of advertising benefits everyone it touches. It benefits the public by describing exactly the products that are offered. It benefits employees, because the advertiser must be more fair and just than the employer who has no obligation to the public. These benefits of advertising are quite apart from the obvious benefits which advertising confers—the lower prices, the higher quality, the better service that go with advertised goods and firms.

Notes Taken At Circuit Court

While jury No. 2 was not a particularly vain jury, it had a mighty vain bird on it in the person of L. S. Peacock.

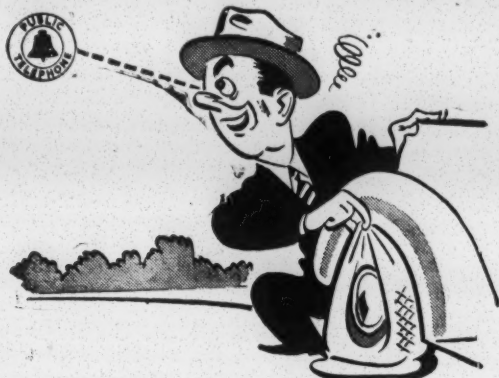

We note with pleasure that the grand jury door was well guarded by one of our subscribers, R. P. Bort.

Cousin Ira missed out this time, but his son, Bolton, got on the pay roll.

Anything that this term of court does is subject to review because there was not a blessed Staten on any of the three juries.

We note Dick Latham on Jury 2 and he may do some mule and yearling swapping while in the jury room.

F. L. TUCKER, JR., Manager

Water Valley, Miss.

Mosquito Lake box was represented on the jury by Don Moore, and this is the first time we ever saw him in court.

Foreman Will Martin did not particularly want to serve but, given the opportunity to "claim his age," he did not do so, but took his seat as head of the inquisitorial body.

Folks do not leave town when the grand jury meets as they used to do. They have found it easier to stay at home and perjure themselves.

Not a Carter 20 on the juries and this in itself is sufficient grounds to throw everything out of court.

Jack McTure did not choose to serve and claimed that he was a pharmacist, but Judge Allen developed the fact that Jack was one of three pharmacists at Dye-Kent so said to Jack, "Have a seat."

I used to get off from jury service by claiming the exemption that goes to public millers.

Just one Mullin, Marvin, got on this time. Let's have a new shuffle. Cut the cards again.

The Tharpe tribe was represented by J. T. who should make good on the job, however much concentration and gummen are required.

Cap Oliver had to get by the best he could this week as one of his main men, J. D. Moss, Jr. was serving his country in court.

If we could just get those Japs in line of fire of that barrage of snuff and amber, we could make short shift of them.

If Oxberry box had a single representative on the juries, that individual escaped my eagle eye. It looks like they could have had John Emmons or Uncle Henry Massey. Uncle Henry could have helped fill those spittoons.

Some of the jurymen must not have known that the regular saloons were open for they were seen headed for the Peavine to get skocet.

Jutt Cook was in town all right but failed to connect with any warm jury seat. However, he saw to it personally that this session started right.

Whit Singleton, the governor's right bower in Beat Five, was able to pick up a few honest dollars by doing jury service.

I do not imagine the juries will find out anything about any licker selling, gambling or one-arm bandits.

The saloons were courteous enough to keep open during this term of court so that the country patrons, tired of oldrum gosh and washpot skocet, could get a haif of government licker.

L. J. Allen, another Beat Five, made more sitting there than he would have made at home on Black Creek. He may have got enough extra to subscribe for the GCW again.

Constable Mahan gave a hearty "Here," when his name was called. He has moved to the Merritt place.

We enter a solemn protest. There was not a single James on the jury payroll.

Tom Spears, Garrett box and all, was a lively member of the grand jury.

It was estimated that a case of snuff was consumed during the first three days.

See where our old war buddy, Ceil Jacks, was sitting up there on Jury 1 looking as wise as a tree full of owls.

Paw Todd got a good seat on the grand jury.

The Williams generation was represented on the grand jury by Henry.

One of our newest subscribers in the person of Henry Carpenter, got a good job sitting, looking and spitting, and that shows how lucky it is to become a GCW subscriber.

We were mighty glad to see that our old friend, John Hayden, who is well nigh past being able to do anything, obtained a position on one of the petit juries.

Hurried glance at the jury lists seems to indicate that Beat Five had more men on the juries than any other beat.

If there is anything to being a good court by having a person bearing the same name on every jury, this court should be outstanding as there was a Chapman on each petit jury and one on the grand jury.

We are satisfied that there were somewhat less than one hundred thous and lies told during this session.

Everybody missed Nink Perry, now in Yalobusha county, who used to yell "Order in the court" so violently.

STILL GOING TO GETHER

Mildred and William Estelle and Bud Benton and Jeanie Hermit and Lou. Isn't it remarkable that we were writing about these couples at the first of school and here we are still writing.

Dot Tallert seems to be hearing from a certain Billy Smith from Houston while Mary Lib seems to have forgotten that a certain George who lives at Houston ever still exists.
